KVSB Spotlight

On Display: Lisa Thompson's Cookbook Collection

Now through Oct. 20th

I've been collecting cookbooks since I was around ten years old, starting with Gooseberry Patch cookbooks. Currently, I own over two hundred cookbooks in my collection from both gifts and my own purchases. I enjoy reading them as much as using the recipes.

Some of my favorites are my grandmother's cookbooks, along with the homemade cookbooks from my mother and family friends. There are so many great memories attached to them, it makes the collection even more special to me.

Many of those in my collection were purchased from different states or unique locations I visited. Most recently, I purchased a cookbook from Michigan during our KVSB Heritage Club trip to Mackinac Island. I also ordered a cookbook from Abraham & Mary Todd Lincoln's home that we visited in Springfield, Illinois during the same tour. I like to make a note in each one of where and when I purchased it. I am looking forward to handing them down to my daughter one day.

Mackinac Island

The Heritage Club had an amazing trip to Mackinac Island in August. We kissed reindeer in Rantoul, IL and lunched on the beach in Holland, MI. We spent three days on Mackinac Island enjoying horse-drawn carriage rides and a wonderful luncheon at the world-famous Grand Hotel. We toured Ft. Mackinac and enjoyed beautiful weather for the entire trip. It is 8.2 miles around the island and can be traveled by bike in one hour. There are no motor vehicles on the island—walking, bikes and horses are the only ways to travel!

On our way home we enjoyed stops in South Haven, MI at the National Blueberry Festival and the hometown of Walt Disney. Many miles were traveled and lots of laughs shared and friendships made!

Life was meant for good friends and great adventures!
